

11 Ways to Decorate Your Home for the Holidays

By: Candace Braun Davison, Pamela Masin and Abbe Wright

Welcome the season with more than a tangled string of lights. As these designers prove, giving your home that cozy, cabin-in-the-woods feeling is easier (and more affordable) than you might think

Deck the Walls

"Wall art that inspires a feeling through words is a perfect way to show off your holiday spirit. Wood signs with sayings on them are popular accessories in home décor but can be expensive, depending on their size. So, why not take your favorite sayings and do-it-yourself? In this 'Let It Snow' sign, you don't have to be very creative, or master calligraphy, to get the message across. This is an easy project that even a novice DIYer can build upon...by collecting unique finds to place on the board and play with pattern, texture and color."

— Tori Toth, home stager and author of Feel at Home.